If you have made a per stirpes designation for either the Primary or Contingent Beneficiaries named in this section, complete the following:

Provide the individual's name or provide the role of either Executor/Executrix or Trustee

Transfer on Death (TOD) Agreement

This Agreement contains the various terms and conditions governing your brokerage account(s) registered as TOD.

Section 1: Establishing and Eligibility of TOD Registration

- To establish TOD registration of your brokerage account(s) with us, you must properly complete, sign and submit our TOD Application included with and made part of this TOD Agreement and we must accept it. No TOD registration will be effected until all required documentation is received and accepted by us. We are not required to accept instructions from any other person, including any attorney-in-fact, to establish, revoke, or change TOD registration. First Clearing may rely on an order or instruction it receives from your Broker with respect to your account without further inquiry including any order or instruction received regarding distributions to beneficiaries.
- You must reside in the United States in order to establish TOD registration on your account(s). TOD registration is not available for Louisiana, Puerto Rico or non-United States residents. If you reside in or move to Louisiana, Puerto Rico or outside of the United States, we have the right to terminate any TOD registration.
- Only accounts owned by individuals are eligible for TOD registration. For joint accounts, we will permit TOD registration on joint accounts with rights of survivorship (including tenants by the entirety), but not on "tenants in common" joint accounts.
- The following types of assets are not eligible for TOD registration:
 - Annuities
 - Assets held in your name at mutual fund companies
 - Certificated shares of mutual fund companies
 - Commodities
 - Life insurance policies
 - Limited partnership interests
 - Physical securities certificates
 - Precious metals
- We may designate other types of ineligible assets. If your account(s) should hold ineligible assets at the date of the last surviving account owner's death and the disposition of the ineligible assets is not governed by an agreement specifically related to those ineligible assets, then we will distribute the assets to the last surviving account owner's estate.

Section 2: Relationship to Other Agreements

- This TOD Agreement supplements and does not replace any other agreement(s) relating to your account(s) and will be governed by the laws of the State of New York. If there are inconsistencies between this TOD Agreement and other agreement(s) governing your account(s), the terms of this TOD Agreement will apply for issues involving your TOD account(s).

Section 3: Designation of Beneficiaries

- You must designate one or more primary beneficiaries to whom we will distribute your account assets upon the last surviving account owner's death.
- You may (but are not required to) designate one or more contingent beneficiaries for your account(s).
- You should designate a percentage of assets for each beneficiary. Percentages must total 100%. If you do not designate percentages, then they will be deemed equal shares. If any designated percentages do not equal 100%, the unallocated portion of the assets will be distributed to the beneficiaries otherwise entitled to distribution of the assets on a pro rata basis proportionate to their designated percentage.
- If any primary beneficiary dies before the last surviving account owner or disclaims their interest in your account(s), we will distribute that beneficiary's share to their corresponding contingent beneficiary(ies) or, if no contingent beneficiary is designated, to the remaining primary beneficiary(ies) on a pro rata basis.
- If you designate contingent beneficiaries and if any of the contingent beneficiaries die before the last surviving account owner, we will distribute that share to the remaining corresponding contingent beneficiary(ies) or, if no corresponding contingent beneficiaries remain, to the remaining primary beneficiary(ies) on a pro rata basis.
- If no primary or contingent beneficiaries are alive when the last surviving account owner dies, or if all beneficiaries disclaim their interests in your account(s), we will distribute the assets to the last surviving account owner's estate.
- You must provide the name, address, birthdate, and taxpayer identification number for any beneficiary.
- You may name one or more beneficiaries who do or do not reside in the United States. Please note, however, that we will not accept any TOD beneficiary designation where a beneficiary resides in a country that is subject to U.S. Department of Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control (OFAC) sanctions.
- If you designate a minor beneficiary, then you must designate a custodian under the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA). A custodian cannot be designated under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA).
- If you designate a trust as a beneficiary, you must specify the date the trust was established and include names of all trustees. We will not honor the designation of a testamentary trust as a beneficiary or any trusts that are not yet in existence. Any trust, partnership, corporation or other legal entity designated as a beneficiary and not in existence at the time of the last account owner's death will be deemed not to have survived the account owner.
- We will not honor a person's estate, including any account owner's estate, as a beneficiary designation.
- Your beneficiary designations will not be subject to state probate rules and will take precedence over any designation or disposition contained in wills, trusts, or other instruments which provide for the contrary disposition of the account(s) or TOD assets.

Per Stirpes Beneficiary Designation

- You have the option to add a per stirpes designation to your primary or contingent beneficiary designation. If you make a per stirpes designation, and the primary or contingent beneficiary, as applicable, does not survive the last surviving account owner, then any share otherwise payable to such beneficiary shall instead be paid to such beneficiary's descendants by right of representation.
- In order to make a per stirpes designation, you must check the per stirpes box associated with the primary or contingent beneficiary designation, as applicable. You must also complete the Per Stirpes Designation section in the application, which designates a personal representative or an individual serving in a specific capacity to provide your Broker with the proper name(s) of any per stirpes beneficiary.

- Descendants will include persons within the class living on the date of the designation as well as persons born or legally adopted after the date of the designation who are members of the class living on the date of the death of last surviving account owner. If you make a per stirpes designation and the particular primary or contingent beneficiary, as applicable, has no descendants, then the share otherwise payable to such beneficiary shall be paid to any members of the class of beneficiaries, either primary or contingent, as applicable, who survived the last surviving account holder in the proportion that their shares bear to each other. If you make a per stirpes designation, and the designation fails due to there being no descendants within an entire class of beneficiaries, either primary or contingent as applicable, the assets will be paid to the estate of the last surviving account owner.
- For the purposes of this section, beneficiaries shall include a named beneficiary or descendants of a deceased named beneficiary eligible to receive assets because of the per stirpes designation.

Section 4: Spousal Consent

- IF YOU ARE MARRIED AND LIVE IN A COMMUNITY PROPERTY JURISDICTION (Alaska, Arizona, California, Guam, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, or Wisconsin; in Alaska, community property rules may be adopted by agreement signed by the married couple):
 - If your spouse is not a joint owner of the Account and you designate a primary beneficiary who is not your spouse, your spouse must approve your designation.
 - If you get married after signing this form, your marriage may make your beneficiary designation(s) invalid without spousal consent.
 - We may reject your TOD Application or refuse to distribute your account assets to your beneficiary(ies) if we have not received your spouse's consent to your beneficiary designations.

Section 5: Changes to Beneficiary Designations and Revocation

- To change a beneficiary, all account owners must properly complete, sign, and submit a new TOD Application and we must accept it. We will honor only the most recent TOD Application and Agreement accepted by us.
- We are not required to accept instructions from any other person, including any attorney-in-fact, to name or change beneficiaries and we may refuse to accept any beneficiary designation.
- Changes in the relationship between an account owner and a beneficiary (such as, marriage, divorce, or adoption) will not automatically change or revoke the beneficiary designation. For example, if you designate a spouse as beneficiary and you subsequently divorce, your former spouse will remain a beneficiary unless you complete our revocation form or a new TOD Application and we accept it.
- To revoke your TOD registration, you (and any other account owners) must complete our revocation form. We will not accept a revocation through any other document or through any other person, including any attorney-in-fact. Revocation will not be effective until we accept the revocation form.
- For joint accounts, after the death of an account owner, this Agreement shall continue to apply to an account that must be established by the surviving owner or owners unless the surviving owner or owners change or revoke this Agreement by completing our revocation form.

Section 6: Transfer of Assets Upon Death

- A beneficiary has no rights in your account until all account owners have died. From the last surviving account owner's death until the distribution of assets, all living beneficiaries will be tenants in common.
- After the last surviving account owner dies, we will not permit any activity in your account until we receive the following:
 - Legal proof of death of all account owners;
 - A copy of our distribution request form, signed by or for each beneficiary or legal representative of the last surviving owner's estate; and

- A waiver of inheritance or estate taxes (if required under state law).
- If the assets are to be distributed to the last surviving account owner's estate, then we will require letters testamentary or similar legal documentation. If a primary beneficiary dies before the last surviving account owner, we will require legal proof of death for that beneficiary. If we cannot determine the order of death of the last surviving account owner or any beneficiary, then we will assume that the beneficiary died first.
- If a surviving beneficiary disclaims a transfer in whole or in part, the portion disclaimed will be treated as if the disclaiming beneficiary had predeceased the account owner.
- If your TOD beneficiary resides in a country where we are not authorized to conduct business or we are otherwise unable to service the beneficiary due to our compliance policies, then Wells Fargo Advisors cannot provide ongoing financial services to the beneficiary and will only permit the beneficiary to open an account on a temporary basis in order to facilitate distribution of the TOD assets.
- Upon acceptance of the required documentation, the account assets, including any residual dividends and interest, will be distributed in-kind to the beneficiaries according to the percentages in the most recent TOD Agreement accepted by us. Account assets will not be liquidated in your account in order to distribute cash to your beneficiaries.
- We may reduce or eliminate distributions if we receive written notice from an account owner's estate that the assets must be used to pay the estate's expenses. In such case, the estate's court-appointed personal representative may select assets to distribute to the estate.
- When we receive notice of the last surviving account owner's death, we will have no obligation to:
 - A. Locate any beneficiary or any account owner's heirs or representatives of their estates;
 - B. Notify any person of a proposed or completed transfer of your assets; or
 - C. Verify any information submitted by a person claiming to have an interest in your account.

Section 7: Minor Beneficiaries and Incapacitated Persons

- If you do not designate a UTMA custodian for a minor beneficiary, or if the UTMA custodian is unable or unwilling to accept the distribution, we may allow a natural or legal guardian of the minor beneficiary to designate a UTMA custodian, require the court appointment of a guardian, conservator, or other legal representative of the minor beneficiary, or we may distribute the assets to an existing UTMA account for the minor beneficiary.
- If any account owner becomes incapacitated, a court-appointed guardian/conservator or agent acting under a durable power of attorney acceptable to us may give instructions on your TOD account(s) to the extent of their authority. A court-appointed guardian/conservator shall not have the authority to establish, change or revoke the TOD registration except by an order from a court of competent jurisdiction.
- If any beneficiary is incapacitated at the time of the last account owner's death, we may accept instructions from an attorney-in-fact under a durable power of attorney for the incapacitated adult, a court-appointed conservator or guardian, or require the appointment of conservator or guardian prior to distribution.

Section 8: Disputes

- If we cannot determine the person entitled to receive a distribution or their proper share, or if a dispute by a beneficiary or a beneficiary's descendants or spouse arises as to the proper distribution, or if claims to the distribution are made by creditors of the estate, a surviving spouse, the personal representative or executor, heirs or others, we may restrict the account(s) and require the parties to determine their respective rights by court order, arbitration, or in any other manner acceptable to us, in our sole discretion, prior to making any distribution.

Section 9: Special Circumstances

- Missing Beneficiary. If a beneficiary cannot be located or proof of a beneficiary's death cannot be provided at the time of transfer, we will retain the share of the missing beneficiary in the account owner's name.

- Fractional Shares. Your beneficiaries must instruct us in writing on how to allocate fractional shares or assets subject to minimum share or amount designations. If your beneficiaries do not provide such instructions, we may, but are not required to, sell all fractional or other shares and distribute the proceeds (after deducting sales commissions and expenses) according to the percentage for each beneficiary. If we sell any fractional shares or other assets in your account after your death, the proceeds will be subject to backup tax withholding.

Section 10: Margin or Debit Balance

- We have the right to reduce any distribution to beneficiaries if there are any outstanding financial obligations of the account owner, including but not limited to, any margin or debit balance. This shall include any dividends, interest, earnings, or other payments associated with these account assets. We also have the right to select which assets to sell to pay the margin or debit balance prior to distribution.

Section 11: Wells Fargo Loan Balance

- If your account is pledged to secure a loan balance owed to Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. when the last surviving account owner dies, the outstanding loan balance must be paid in full prior to any distributions. We may, at our sole discretion, sell any and all securities in your account to satisfy any outstanding balance and your representatives or beneficiaries will not be entitled to choose which securities are sold.

Section 12: Indemnity

- We will not have any liability and You, your estate or your successors-in-interest, including all beneficiaries and heirs shall fully release, indemnify and hold us, our agents, affiliates, successors, and assigns, parent companies, subsidiaries, officers, directors, shareholders, members, employees, and attorneys harmless from and against all claims, actions, costs, liabilities, and damages including attorney fees arising out of or relating to:
 - Any conflicting designation of the assets in your Account by Will, trust or any other instrument;
 - Any written change of beneficiary(ies) that you have made that has not been accepted by us;
 - Any pay out of interest or dividends after the last surviving account owner's death and the beneficiaries have not provided us with the required documents for distribution in a timely manner;
 - Distributions made upon notice of the death of the last surviving account holder pursuant to the terms of this TOD Agreement;
 - Any failure to transfer any ineligible assets;
 - Any failure to notify you of changes in TOD law that may affect your account;
 - Any resulting decline in account value should the distribution of your account assets be delayed by failure of the beneficiary(ies) to provide us with the required documents for distribution or by a dispute or claim to your account;
 - Any other action taken by us in opening and maintaining your account under this TOD Agreement or registering and titling the securities in your account.
- Once we distribute assets from your account, we will be released fully from any liability.
- If we distribute account assets to a beneficiary and a court finds that a beneficiary is liable to an account owner's estate for expenses, then we will have no liability to the estate or to the beneficiary, unless we received written notice of objection before the asset distribution.

Section 13: Miscellaneous

- We reserve the right to refuse to accept this TOD Agreement and may terminate it at any time for any reason in our sole discretion.

- We make no representation as to the effectiveness of your beneficiary designations or the tax consequences of holding this account or distributing assets from it. You should seek legal or other appropriate counsel regarding all legal and tax issues related to this TOD agreement and registration.

Client Signature and Acknowledgement

IMPORTANT: If some securities in your account are not eligible for TOD registration, then we will distribute those securities to the last surviving account owner's estate. Louisiana residents may not open TOD accounts with us. Because of the complex legal and tax issues, we cannot advise whether a TOD registration is appropriate for your tax and estate planning. YOU SHOULD CONSULT WITH YOUR LEGAL AND TAX ADVISORS BEFORE ELECTING OR REVOKING A TOD ACCOUNT REGISTRATION.
